

Esteemed Glasstaff,

Our mutual benefactor, the Black Spider, expresses satisfaction with the current progress. However, discretion remains paramount. Ensure the recent acquisitions are transported to the designated location without arousing suspicion.

It is of course, no surprise that Lords Obriga Martis, and Estaniel Thorne have been instrumental in facilitating our operations within Neverwinter's sphere. Their continued cooperation is vital.

Proceed with caution Glasstaff, your virtues warrant reward and your loyalty is not unnoticed.

Beware, the Black Spider's gaze is ever-watchful.

Best Regards,
—Everard
